ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

As ever, thanks go to the 'Graveyarders' but this time in separate bits. First 'Caffer No. 2' Margaret Brown who, with me for company set off to do the cleaning, reading and the plan. Then 'Caffers Nos. 3 & 4' Jean Cowper & Jim Shirer who did the checking while Margaret and I were on holiday (got to keep them at it !!) Who's Caffer No. 1? No prizes for the right answer.

This was an awkward one to plan for a straightforward walk around, but I hope you will be able to follow it and find what and where you want. A piece of luck with No. 47. When we have finished the main reading we always check on the odd bits of masonry lying about and came on the other half of the stone up against the wall.

Quite a large churchyard in area, set on the hill on the outskirts of Oldmeldrum. There is an even bigger 'New' section and another piece of ground laid out ready for use in the near future. I hope you will forgive us if we concentrate on the 'Old' ones, there are enough of them to keep us going, and the inscriptions could be lost a lot sooner on some of them through weather, and, on occasions vandals.

If any of you come to Aberdeen particularly to visit a graveyard, please contact me, either through the shop or at home. We may have made a start in the one you're interested in and could save some valuable holiday time.

Look forward to meeting you,

Sheila M. Spiers,
